

EXHIBIT A

From: Lauren Cruz [mailto:laurx729x@yahoo.com]
Sent: Thursday, October 18, 2007 3:17 PM
To: Desiree@the4040club.com
Subject:

Hi Des, how are you? I'm emailing you because I was unsure how to go about handling a conversation I had with Maimon Kirschenbaum. Last Thursday, Oct. 11, I made a call to the offices of Mr. Kirschenbaum. I wanted inform them that I released my name from the lawsuit and ensure that they were aware of my position. He got on the phone and very abruptly asked me; "Why did you do that?" I told him that it was a decision I made. He then proceeded to tell me that it seems that you (Desiree) bribed me. I told him that was absolutely not the case; that I contacted you and that I made that decision relying only on my own desires and judgements. He persisted on to try to get me to say that you bribed me. I ended the conversation immediately. I felt that Mr. Kirschenbaum's actions were very inappropriate and unprofessional. Then, on Monday, Oct 15, I received a voicemail from Mr. Kirschenbaum saying that he needed to speak with me to answer a couple of questions before he processes the paperwork he received. I am unaware of any paperwork that would need to be processed on his end that would need any action from me. I have not gotten back to him, and I didn't plan on it. Chrissy also informed me that he called her with the same message. I wanted to contact you to make you aware of this, and also ask you if there is anything I should do about these occurrences.

Well, I hope all is well with you, and I hope to hear from you soon.

Thanks,

Lauren.

Do You Yahoo!?

Tired of spam? Yahoo! Mail has the best spam protection around
<http://mail.yahoo.com>